PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

STATE ORGANIZATION.

A State Committee, to consist of a chairman and thirty members—six of whom shall reside in Raleigh and three in each judicial district—to be appointed by the State Convention.

The committee shall have power to maintain its organization by filling vacancies, &c., and shall take charge of all matters relating to organization, registrations, &c., and a proper canvass of the State.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION.

The members of the State Committee in each judicial district shall constitute a district Committee for their respective districts and shall appoint a Chairman, and shall take charge of all matters relating to county organization, &c., in their respective districts; and shall report all matters relating thereto, to the Chairman of the State Committee.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION.

It is recommended that each County, by popular meetings or through the medium of existing organization, appoint a County Committee, to consist of at least two persons from each Captain's District within its limits.

The County Committee shall take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., within the County, and is requested to make monthly reports to the Chairman of the District Committee, and when necessary, to inform him of such local matters as may require the attention of the District Committee.

It is further recommended that each County Committee cause to be enrolled the names of all the registered voters of their county, who are willing to act and vote with this organization—no man to be thus enrolled without his express consent; and, also, that they cause to be enrolled on a separate list the names of all those who are entitled to register, but who have not done so, and that they use every exertion to secure their registration and active co-operation.

PLATFORM.

The Conservative people of North Carolina, having by their delegates assembled in Convention at Raleigh, on the 5th of February, 1868, to consider the present anomalous condition of the State, and of the country, and to consult together upon the grievances which now afflict and threaten them, and the course of action proper to be adopted in the trying circumstances which surround them, do resolve and declare

1. Our unalterable devotion to the principles of Constitutional liberty, and our fealty to the government of the United States, as set forth in the Federal Constitution. That we sincerely and in good faith accept the legitimate and legal results of the late war, and do hereby reiterate our oft repeated declaration, that we most heartily desire peace and concord with our sister States, and with the entire people of the United States.

2. Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the source of all power in the administration of the government, and that the powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial department are equal and co-ordinate, as defined by that instrument, we do respectfully and solemnly protest against the enforcement upon our people, of the Reconstruction Acts, and policy of Congress, as unconstitutional, unwise and destructive to society, and violative of that great principle of American politics, that each State shall have the exclusive control of its own internal offices.

3. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the great and all absorbing issue, now soon to be presented to the people of the State, is negro suffrage and negro equality, if not supremacy, and whether hereafter in North Carolina and the South, the white man is to be placed politically and, as a consequence, socially, upon a footing of equality with the negro, and, in many localities, subject to his government as a superior. That we are utterly opposed to such change in our government and in our social relations, and that we do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of the State to manfully meet the issue now attempted to be forced upon them, and to use every proper measure within their power to avert the impending mischief.

4. Resolved, That while we are unalterably opposed to political and social equality with the black race, we yet have no unjust prejudicies against that race, that we are determined, by just laws, to protect them fully in all their civil rights, and to confer upon them all privileges which can be done consistently with the safety and welfare of both races.

5. Resolved, That the distressed and impoverished condition of our people earnestly demands the speediest and wisest measures of relief that the Legislature can devise.

6. Resolved, That this Convention recognizes, with feelings of gratitude, the heroic and patriotic efforts of the President of the United States, to restore the Union and harmony and good will among the American people.

7. Resolved, That this Convention regards the Supreme Court of the United States as the legitimate expounder in the last resort of the Constitution—and believe that its rights and powers, in that respect, should be preserved intact as established by law in the earlier and better days of the republic, and that any serious impairment thereof, by legislation or otherwise, will be destructive to the best interests of the country, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

8. Resolved, That despairing of any restoration of the Southern States under the conduct of that organization which now controls the proceedings of Congress, waiving all former party feeling and prejudice, this Convention does most unhesitatingly recommend and invite the hearty co-operation of all the good people of North Carolina with the Democrats, and Conservative men of the North and West, who are now nobly struggling for the maintenance of the Constitution of the United States, and the restoration of the Southern States to their rights in the Union, on the solid foundation of harmony and peace.

9. Resolved, That this Convention elect four delegates and four alternates for the State at large, to represent the conservative people of North Carolina in the next Democratic National Convention, and that it recommend to the conservative people of the several Congressional Districts, to appoint delegates at an early day to represent them in said Convention.

10. Resolved, That when an election shall be ordered for the ratification of a new State Constitution, the Executive Committee for the State, hereafter to be appointed by this Convention, be instructed, if the time shall be sufficient to call a Convention of the Conservative people of the State, to put in nomination candidates for the various State offices whose election shall then be ordered, and if there shall not be sufficient time to call said Convention, to put in nomination sound Conservative men for said office.

The North Carolinian.

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land."

WM. A. HEARNE, JNO. W. DUNHAM,
EDITORS.

Raleigh, Tuesday, March 3, 1868.

FOR the encouragement of those of our citizens, who have fears in regard to the result of the campaign, we collate the following facts from the report of the registration in this State, made by Maj. Gen. Canby, in response to a request therefor by the constitutional convention, so-called. The total registered vote of the State is 179,653. The total vote cast, for and against a convention, was 125,967, leaving a deficiency of 53,686. The number of votes cast for a convention was 93,006; against it 32,691.

We believe that the Radical party of the State polled its full strength in November, and that it will cast a diminished vote in that which approaches. It was then, even more thoroughly organized and disciplined than now. It made extraordinary exertions for success. The leagues were most successfully used for arousing the negroes; documents were freely distributed and speakers traversed the State, urging the members of the party to be at the polls promptly upon their opening. Every possible incentive was used to cheer them, and when other things failed, they were threatened with vengeance if they did not obey the command of their masters. They did obey. They went to the polls en masse, and voted as they had been commanded to do for a convention and for Radical delegates thereto. We therefore conclude that of the possessors of the 53,686 names appearing upon the registration lists but not upon the poll-books, at least 50,000 were with us in sentiment, but remained away from the polls from indifference or disgust.

Again, the reconstruction acts require that the registration lists shall be opened fourteen days prior to any election held by virtue of these acts, for revision, and remain open for three days. They also provide for the registration of all such qualified persons as may not have registered, who then desire to avail themselves of the right. By this registration, we believe, at least 8,000 white voters will be added to the lists, and that, almost without exception, they are endorsers of the principles of the white man's party in the State. The Radicals are fully registered. The same influences that drove them to the ballot box, had placed their names upon the registration lists before that event. Add, therefore, to the 32,961 votes cast against a convention the 50,000 votes not cast at all, and the 8,000 gained by the new registration, and we have 90,961 votes, which we think can be cast against the constitution. Again, of 93,006 votes cast for a convention, at least 10,000 were cast by Conservative citizens, under advice given by various papers and public men of the State. Add this to 91,000 previously accounted for and the aggregate sums up about 100,000 votes that can be polled against Radicals and Radicalism in this contest. That number will defeat the party by a majority exceeding 10,000. We do not claim for these estimates absolute accuracy. They approximate the truth, we think, and are certainly full of encouragement to our people.

If with these odds, or odds approximating these, we fail in our duty and permit the State government to pass into the control of the negroes and their allies, we shall deserve the evils which will certainly come upon us. But we must not fail in this contest. We will not. Let every man do his duty to his family, his State, his country and his God, and all will be well with us.

THE lull which follows the storm in political as well as in the natural world has come to the country, and men begin to see how very ridiculous and undignified was the bluster and excitement created by the removal of Stanton and the impeachment of the President. The feverish anxiety as to the coming thing has subsided, and the actors in the farce, who foolishly imagined themselves heroes of a drama, are doubtless heartily ashamed of the contemptible exhibition of temper and fury they have given.

The purpose of the President was certainly a pacific one. He was hampered by a law in the discharge of his duties as the Chief Magistrate of the nation. Believing that law to be unconstitutional, he determined to test its legality in the manner prescribed by the constitution. To do this he was compelled to remove some officer whom that law was designed to protect and to continue in office. He chose Mr. Stanton for obvious reasons.

He did nothing more than his oath of office required of him. His duty to the people whose representative he is, would have been shamefully violated had he done less. For thus acting he is assailed by a partisan press, villified by partisan orators and impeached by a partisan Congress.

He has acted with great dignity throughout the whole affair, and deserves the thanks of the people for his conduct. Congress, on the contrary, has but more plainly revealed, what has been long known, its utter want of those qualities, which should distinguish a body charged with its high trust and duties. It has shown its total incapacity for good, while developing a wonderful deal of power for evil.

The President may be deposed. The Senate may not have the nerve and patriotism to resist the consideration of party safety, and may be driven into the commission of this heinous crime, but its wrong-doing will react when the sober second thought has been had by the people.

The President is now on trial—his judges will go before a grander tribunal in November, and he shall become the accuser of his accusers. The verdict, we believe, will be that those who now seek to fasten crime upon him will, of a violation of the constitution and of a want of patriotism, be adjudged—GUILTY.

WE respectfully refer our readers to the report of the proceedings of the convention for information in regard to the doings of that disreputable and dishonest body. We have not the space or time to refer specially to its constant violations of truth, decency and common sense. We desire, however, to invite attention to the action of the convention last night, inasmuch as it proves, what we have asserted, that its members favor the social equality of the negro. The report of the committee on Corporations, other than municipal, was under consideration. To the first section of that report, Capt. Plato Durham offered the following proviso, and demanded the ayes and nays thereon:

"Provided, That institutions of learning in which black and white pupils are educated promiscuously shall not be incorporated under general laws or by special act."

The yeas and nays were refused by the convention, and then the proviso was defeated by a strict party vote.

Under the report adopted by the convention, the white children of the State are compelled to attend the same schools with negroes, or they will be denied all participation in the benefits of the educational facilities provided by the State. What think the white men of the State of this measure? Are they prepared to endorse it? An indignant negative will come up from the gentlemen of the old Commonwealth from the polls on the day of election.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

FORTY-SECOND DAY.

MONDAY, March 2, 1868.

Ye wild animals of Dan Kowles Wonderful Zoological Collection were unusually quiet today. They appeared to be cowed—stupid and jaded. Quadruple public performances in the past week, (without extra mileage and per diem,) had proved too trying even to those wondrously agile gymnasts, the Kangaroos. Sabbath rest had not sufficed to recreate the beasts or their keepers, so all hands were sore and surly, but disposed for the nonce to keep the peace. Fears, too, of an early divorce from the public teats, and banishment to their native wilds, had doubtless a soothing effect upon the quadrupeds. They were either appalled or drugged into "a shocking tameness." March, the blusterer, had evidently ushered in the dawn of the Millennial year, for TOURGEE, the lion, and Candler, the unweaned lamb, lay down most lovingly together, closing their eyes,

—"As calmly as to a night's repose,
Like flowers at set of sun."

The subdued snort of a skulking hyenna, with now and then the meaningless chatter of some drunken Gorilla, were the only sounds that vexed the deep silence of that awful chamber wherein are shaped and recorded the "archives of gravity." Another cause of this unwonted stillness and decorum, was doubtless the absence of the Earl of Chatham, alias Johnny McDonald—otherwise "Cousin John," the independent, ginger-cake, cream-candy candidate for Congress, in this district.

Boner, the hermaphroditic popinjay from Salem, who puts blacking on his whiskers and splits his hair in the middle, opened the performance with readings from the North Carolinian of Saturday.

Then followed a voluminous red tape document from Great Mogul Canby, containing the royal edict in regard to contested elections, which was referred to the Committee on elections.

Abbott, New Hampshire Quaker, moved to suspend the rules in order to discuss the report of the Committee on Immigration.

Manager Kowles, who seemed a monument of Dignity on "de archives of gravity," very sagely reminded the shaker that his motion was not apropos.

PETITIONS, ORDINANCES, &C.

Andrews—a petition for divorce. Referred.

Blume, a Night-blooming blossom from Cabarrus, also presented a petition praying for divorce. His prayer being deemed a "Cereus" matter, was referred.

Rich, yankee, a resolution to appoint a committee to examine ordinances, etc., in order to dispatch business of the Convention.

Heaton, of Ohio, a substitute that the "animiles" disperse, sine die on the 12th inst.

Mr. Rodman, a resolution to increase the committee of divorce, etc. Lies over.

Candler, the Buncombe baby, a resolution of thanks from the "Smelfungus-Mundungus" to the Great (!) American Congress for the impeachment of President Johnson. Referred.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Abbott, Quaker, moved that the report on Immigration be taken up. Carried.

He then moved that the ordinance be made the special order for 10½ A. M. to-morrow. Carried.

On motion of Heaton, of Ohio, the resolution in regard to adjournment sine die was taken up.

Rodman moved an amendment that no "diligit" shall receive per diem after the 12th inst.

Heaton acquiesced.

Nicholson said he would stand adjourned when his per diem stopped.

Jones, the Knight of the Sorrowful, was thoroughly unable to comprehend, with the lamps before him, how the Convention could adjourn before the 20th.

Candler, the Buncombe infant, offered the following substitute:

That it is the unanimous opinion of this convention that there is no earthly reason why we should not adjourn on the 12th inst., but if the work is not then complete, the convention has the power to rescind its action in the premises.—Carried.

SPECIAL ORDER—HOMESTEADS.

The question recurring on the second section as amended.

Rich, Yank., moved to strike out the words "not exceeding one hundred acres of land," in lines 1 and 2. Carried.

Jones, of Caldwell, moved to amend the 9th line, 2nd section, by inserting after the word "debt" as follows: "but no property shall be exempt from taxes, or for payment of obligation, contracted for the purchase of said premises."—Carried.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, offered a (very sensible) substitute for the whole, viz: to leave the whole matter to the Legislature. He thought the convention in sticking every petty, contemptible matter in the constitution, was going a little too far.

The ayes and noes were demanded on Mr. G.'s substitute, and resulted—ayes 52, noes 62.

The Tourgee moved to make the matter the special order for Thursday night. Carried.

On motion of "Pilgrim" Ashley, of Buzzard's Bay, the most foul and iniquitous scalawag that the foul scum of Puritanic New England has vomited on Southern soil, the report of the Committee on Education, was made the special order for Friday next.

The report of the Committee on Corporations, other than Municipal, was next taken up.

Bryan, the red-headed raider and traitor, of Wilkes, renewed his motion to reconsider the vote by which section 4 was stricken out.

The Tourgee opposed.

The red-headed "diligit's" motion was put and lost.

The ordinance of the Tourgee to prevent the amercements of sheriffs, was taken up and passed.

CALENDAR.

Morton's ordinance repealing an ordinance passed by the convention of '66, prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors at Company's Shops, was taken up.

Welker objected.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, thought it would be unwise to repeal the ordinance.

It was laid under the table.

Watts, greasy Sammy, an ordinance prohibiting the collection of all obligations incurred for the hire or purchase of niggers. Sammy said it struck him [about the spot over which he used to wear his apron, we suppose, judging from the position of his "grabblers" at the time] that it must be manifest to every member of the convention, that his ordinance was not a repudiating one.

Candler, the Buncombe booby, moved to amend by inserting "provided that debts contracted for the sale or hire of slaves prior to January 1st, '63, shall be collectable."

Mr. Graham, of Orange, was opposed to making any distinction before or after 1st of January, '63. It was a matter that should be left entirely to the courts. A paper blockade cannot be a blockade in fact. All contracts made in regard to slaves were honest debts—made in good faith—and to pass this ordinance was an act of repudiation. He moved to lay under the table. Carried.

Speaker Cowles announced Heaton, Nicholson and Rodman a committee on arrangement of the constitution.

Rodman moved to suspend the rules in order to take up his resolution to refer the whole matter of divorce to a committee of five instead of three.

Jones, the Knight of the Sorrowful, said Rodman's idea was a good one and met his hearty concurrence.

The motion to suspend was then put and carried.

Mr. Hodnett was utterly opposed to having anything to do with these divorce cases. The convention had been called to make a constitution, not to grant divorces; besides, the matter of divorce was too serious a one to be entrusted to five men.

Welker also opposed the resolutions.

Ing moved to postpone indefinitely in order that the question might have an end-(in) Ing. Carried.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, moved to adjourn sine die. Eight dollars per diem loomed up before the scallawags, and they "couldn't see it."

Mr. Holt then moved to adjourn until 7½ o'clock to-night. Carried, of course.

On the 27th of February, at the Tucker Hall Exhibition, the Honorable Mister Heaton, from Ohio via Newbern, offered a resolution in the words and figures following, to-wit:

2. "Resolved, That the continued and persistent efforts now being made upon the part of the so-called Conservative organization of the State to place the stigma and ban of social ostracism upon thousands of patriotic Southern white men, who have the manliness and courage to stand firmly by the Republican Party, is justly regarded as narrow, reckless and vindictive, and well calculated to excite the contempt of every honorable man."

This modest resolution, among others equally modest, is said to have been "unanimously adopted."

We are a cautious man. We are not quite sure whether under the new regime, the truth can be given in our courts in justification of what we may write and publish. So we are determined to be very circumspect and cautious. But SOMEBODY, in New Berne, (called Nubbern now) had his parlor elegantly furnished with articles belonging to a lady of that city.

SOMEBODY was called on by that lady, and politely informed of the fact.

SOMEBODY denied the fact, assuring the claimant and real owner, that he had purchased the furniture in New York a fortnight before.

SOMEBODY was gently entreated for permission to look at the articles, and examine the underside thereof.

SOMEBODY graciously gave the permission, and was dismayed at finding there written in honest Roman, the true owner's name.

SOMEBODY, thereupon, looked tolerably mean—at least as mean as could be expected.

SOMEBODY was patently a convicted thief, or a receiver of stolen goods—and lied to a lady, besides.

We are very cautious, and protest that we do not mean Mr. Heaton, for he is an "honorable man." So are they all—all honorable men. But that SOMEBODY should not put up his pretty mouth at the "stigma and ban of social ostracism." That SOMEBODY, may the rather rejoice at the abolition of that relic of barbarism, the whipping-post.

The cunning old Spartans were taught to steal. It was a portion of their national education. But it had to be done adroitly; and woe to the blunderer! When in danger of detection, he might lie—circumstantially, directly, and abominably—according to the exigency that pressed him. But woe unto him, if he lied bunglingly, and was caught in the fact of both theft and falsehood! Something worse than stigmatizing, banning, or social ostracism was his doom, as will be seen by the learned work of Hierocles Polythamus, Lib. viii, Cap. vi, where this learned scholar discourseth at large: "De desiderio Spart. Hel excell in arte furt ingenios"—which chapter contains also a most profitable section upon the most skilful mode of plundering provinces.

In the first part of Cap. VI. is a learned and metaphysical discussion, carried on after the fashion of those old philosophers in dialogue, on the question whether a convicted rogue can under any circumstances be considered an honorable man, however subsequently whitewashed—and whether, in attempting to feel and express contempt for any body, he could by possibility push the feeling away from himself so far as to reach any human being. The conclusion is that it would be with that man much like spitting in the face of a howling tempest. The tempest does not care a continental cuss about it—does not even feel it—and so—"the chicken came home to roost."

Our learned author, Hierocles Pol. states that many of these detected Spartans expatriated themselves, leaving their country for their country's good, and some for their own; that they wandered away sometimes to Athens, and attempted to pass themselves off as genuine Athenians—to the manor born. But their speech always betrayed them. There was a harsh, grating, sawing sound—known as the nasal twang of the Spartans—which was agony to the cultivated Athenian's ear. But they were a pushing race—blushed at nothing—and sometimes attempted in a swaggering, bantering way, to cajole the gentle Athenians into what they called social equality. But wherever they went, dismay followed—and padlocks and other prophylactics suddenly rose to fabulous prices.

The Athenians had been used to many luxuries. Utensils of gold ornamented their tables, when on high fetal occasions their choicest, most honored friends graced their hospitable boards. Silver ware was in their daily use when none but themselves and their ordinary domestics were present. But gold and silver vanished at the approach of the wily Spartans. In their stead came wooden trenches and bowls and spoons only to view, during the stay of the Helots, as the honest old-fashioned Athenians regarded them all. God bless Athens. It was a great old place! (Sic passim, in Lib. 8, Hier. Pol. ut ante.)

SENATE—St. Marie's petition for reward for capturing Surratt was referred to the Committee on Claims.

A remonstrance against the constitutionality of the Supreme Court and the Reconstruction bills, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Senate resumed the impeachment proceedure. A severe contest arose over the proviso limiting speeches. The Radicals contended that the prosecution would be restrained by it as much as the defence.

It is noticeable that several Republicans frequently vote with the Democrats. The highest minority vote to-day was 20. This would defeat impeachment by 2 votes.

The Senate having reached the 22d article of proceedure without material amendment, will conclude to-night.

Wade neither votes nor presides during these proceedings.

The House assembled at 10 o'clock. The impeachment articles were discussed. Several verbal amendments were made. The seventh article was stricken out. They were adopted at 4 o'clock by a vote of 126 to 40, nearly the same vote on all, except the last on which the vote stood 108 to 48.

A protest, signed by forty-five members, was not received, nor was it allowed to be printed. Butler, Jencks and Stevens failed in getting in new sections. The managers were those nominated in caucus. The Democrats chosen declined to act, as they wished to have nothing to do with the matter.

The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of these proceedings, when the House adjourned.

The Keowee Courier

Joseph H. Foy, Esq., late of Wilson, N. C., has assumed editorial charge of the Keowee Courier, published at Walhalla, S. C. In a graceful salutatory he announces his determination to support the principles and advocate the cause of the National Democratic party.

Mr. Foy has had much journalistic experience, is a gentleman of scholarly attainments, a vigorous writer, and will do good service in the maintenance of the doctrine, that this is a white man's government and should be controlled by white men only. We tender him a warm welcome to the corps editorial, and wish for him abundant success.

Eight Dollars a Day and Pickings.

If Carter, the scaly scallawag who represents the Carter family—(all niggers by brevet) and the baser sort of "entlerd folk" resident, or rather roosting and robbing roosts in the county of—of Sampson (we hate to confess it)—if this thing! knows any one thing more than another, it is that he has a nose! This one thing he does know—he knows he knows it. It has come under his own—observation. The discovery was made originally by his own filthy fingers, and so proudly conscious has he become of the possession, in his own right, of this nasal appendage, that it is doubtful whether the fingers of both hands have ever at one and the same time withdrawn from actual tenancy of the cartilaginous country.

How long a time elapsed before Sylvester Carter's nose became profitable to him pecuniarily, we neither know nor does it matter much. We do not know how often Carter's "snoot" has been pulled by others. But one thing we do know: since he poked that nose of his into the business of Constitution making, he has been picking it unceasingly to the tune of Eight dollars a day,

And mileage each way.

Scallawag Nomination.

We learn from the Roanoke News, that a meeting of the mangy congoes and scurvy pale-faces of Halifax county, was held at Halifax last week to nominate candidates for the various county offices that are to be filled at the ensuing election. As might have been expected, the vilest scum of debased humanity in that region participated in the meeting, and representative men were selected. Hays, mud-colored nigger, now conspiring in the bogus convention, was chosen as their candidate for the State Senate. Eppes, the "horned-cattle" hero, and Renfrow, the skulking confederate deserter, now exhibiting at the capitol, and another nigger were nominated for the House of Representatives. One Jim Goodwyn, the associate of the debased nigger population of the county, was nominated for the sheriffalty.

It is to be hoped that the good people of Halifax will not allow these miserable "cankers of a revolution" to again walk over the track, without an effort to defeat them. Let them organize, and go earnestly to work.

The Holden Record.

We publish elsewhere the prospectus of the "Holden Record," an illustrated weekly campaign paper, to be edited by H. H. Helper, Esq. Mr. Helper proposes to fight this battle inside the Republican party. Like all true Republicans, he is disgusted with the disregard of decency and consistency exhibited in the nomination of W. W. Holden, and his scallawag associates, by the ate Republican Convention.

See prospectus.

Johnny McDonald

Left this city to-day for Granville Court, to enlighten the natives of Oxford and vicinity, as to the antecedents of "the Arkansaw Bummer," Col. Deweese—nigger nominee for Congress.

Mack wanted the milk out of this cocoanut, but the "Arkansas Traveller" couldn't see it in those lamps." "Arkansaw" distanced "Relief" by the length of Jeemes Henry Harris' big toe. Hence Mack's independence—hence his journey to Oxford with a carpet-bag full of goobers—and ginger-cakes.

Brick Pomeroy

passed through Weldon on Thursday last en route to Charleston and other points South. We had hoped that "Brick" would give Raleigh a call on his tour, in order to take a glimpse at the menagerie.

The Roanoke News says Mr. Pomeroy is a man of commanding appearance, over six feet high, and his face bears evidence of the firmness and dauntless heroism of the man.

Canvassers for the County of Gates.

The following gentlemen have been appointed canvassers for the County of Gates: Dr. Henry A. Morgan, Rev. Costen Jordan and Messrs. Henry Willig, Mills H. Eure, Sr., Riddick Gatling, Jr., John Gatling and Wm. L. Reed.

For the North Carolinian.

A White Man's Rally in Johnston.

SMITHFIELD, Johnston County, Feb. 29th, 1868.

Messrs. Editors:—The white men of Johnston had one of the most earnest and respectable political meeting on Tuesday last that ever was held in the county. Every precinct was represented, and a spirit of harmony and determination marked the entire proceedings.

The Radicals had had a meeting on the Saturday week previous, and, if we are to judge by the number of white men who participated, (the number did not exceed twelve) they have no strength among men of that color in the county. They appointed, among the delegates to the Radical State Convention, gentlemen who utterly repudiate their doctrines, and who are justly indignant at the unwarranted liberty taken in the use of their names. These same gentlemen were active participants in our meeting and heartily endorse the principles of the white men in this State—proving the fact by the zeal they displayed in our rally. But to the meeting.

After its object was explained, which was handsomely done by Mr. Abell, of Johnson, at the request of the chairman, Col. Rogers was called upon, and in his usually chaste and captivating manner entertained the meeting for a short time. Then Mr. Strong being called upon, arose, and for more than an hour held the audience enchained by one of the most convincing and eloquent speeches that it was ever their good fortune to hear. All expected, from his known ability, an able speech, but even those who knew him best, and hence placed the highest estimate upon his ability, were surprised at the masterly eloquence and unanswerable argument of the effort. Truths were so forcibly put that all felt and acknowledged their weight.

His earnestness was so apparent that none had the boldness to question his sincerity: his positions so impregnable that none dare attack them. Your correspondent would attempt a synopsis, but knows he could not thereby convey an idea of the speech, and it is hoped that in obedience to the call unanimously made, that he may cull the time from his professional duties, arduous as they are, to commit to paper this powerful address, that it may be used as a campaign document, and placed in the hands of every white man in the State. Its wholesome truths should be disseminated throughout the land. All should understand the situation in its true light, that they may vote intelligently on the great issue at stake, and no document could place it more plainly before the public eye than would this speech, if published and circulated, as we earnestly hope it may be.

Let the people heed the voice of warning, and by prompt action save themselves from the odious Constitution soon to be submitted for their ratification or rejection.

The official report from the secretaries will inform you of the spirit fully aroused and determinedly resolved to save the old State from negro-radical domination.

My object is to call the attention of the people, generally, and of the Executive Committee of the different Congressional Districts, particularly, to the energy of George V. Strong, one of the committee of this district, and to suggest that they, if they are not already so doing, hasten to imitate him, in taking the lead in organizing the party in their respective districts.

This gentleman, in the midst of an exceedingly large practice, and the laborious duties incident thereto, has found time to perfect a thorough organization, in accordance with the plan recommended by the convention, in three of the counties of his district, commencing with Greene, and including Greene, Wayne and Johnston.

Let every man imitate to the extent of his ability the example of George V. Strong, and the fame of the good old State will survive untarnished. Timidity and delay will blacken the name of our Mother.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinnated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.

Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

40 YEARS.

DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skilful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pills, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.

There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of quality, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.

They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.

Price:—25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address

Consolation.

George D. Prentice, in the course of a touching poem dedicated to the memory of his son, who fell on the Confederate side in one of the great battles of the West, beautifully expresses the comfort sent to his own bruised heart, and which will awaken a similar feeling in many stricken hearts in Southern households, in the following lines:

"Perchance, when fallen in the strife,
Thy young lips breathed a prayer for life,
Perchance thy heart heaved one deep sigh
To think that thou so soon must die;
But, had it been thy lot to know
The coming triumph of thy foe,
Had'st thou foreseen, all rent and riven,
The cause to which thy soul was given;
Foreseen the flag, thy guide, thy star,
Trailed low behind the conqueror's car;
Foreseen fierce desolation's stride
O'er the bright land that was thy pride;
Foreseen hill, plain, and vale, and wood,
Swept as by storms of fire and blood,
The clime where heaven's best blessings fell
Changed by man's passions to a hell,
Its homes where joy and love erst met
By hunger's howling wolves beset,
Its human forms like skeletons,
Its streams like ghostly Phlegethons,
Thou would'st have blessed with latest breath
A kind God for his Angel, Death,"

An Item for Bachelors.

A judicious wife is always clipping off from her husband's moral nature little twigs that are growing in wrong directions. She keeps him in shape by continual pruning. If you say anything silly, she will affectionately tell you so. If you declare that you will do some absurd thing, she will find means of preventing your doing it. And by far the chief part of all the common sense there is in this world belongs unquestionably to woman. The wisest things which a man commonly does are those which his wife advises him to do. A wife is the grand wielder of the moral pruning knife.

If Johnson's wife had lived there would have been no hoarding up of orange peel—no touching all the posts in walking along the streets—no eating and drinking with a disgusting voracity.

If Oliver Goldsmith had been married, he never would have worn that memorable and ridiculous coat.

Whenever you find a man you know little about, oddly dressed, or talking absurdly, or exhibiting any eccentricity of manner, you may be tolerably sure that he is not a married man; for the corners are rounded off, the little shoots are pruned away in married men.

Wives generally have much more sense than their husbands—especially when their husbands are clever men. The wife's advices are like the ballast that keeps the ship steady; they are the wholesome, though painful shears, clipping off little growths of self conceit.

Bachelor, do you not want a wife?

Rock me to Sleep, Mother.

The Round Table says:

The controversy about Rock Me to Sleep is among what we have long ago set down as what Lord Dundreary calls "things no fellow can understand." First we believed on what seemed to us irrefragable evidence that Mr. Ball had written the lines—and we said so; then Mrs. Akers's champion came in. The Times convinced us of Mrs. Akers's integrity and Mr. Ball's dishonesty—and we recanted; next a Ball advocate pleaded through six columnes of the Tribune the claim of his client in so conclusive a manner that we have no doubt we should have reversed our last opinion had we not determined nevermore to have an opinion about it. Now, however, comes "An (anonymous) Old Compositor" who writes from Annapolis to the Tribune that the poem was written by one Edward Young, "a blacksmith or carriagesmith of eccentric and wayward character," of Lexington, Georgia; and that he (the anonymous Old Compositor) set the poem in type himself from Young's manuscript, in 1859, for the Southern Field and Fireside of Augusta, Georgia.

A Rebel "Tell."

Not a great while after Gen. Lee assumed the duties of President of Washington College, at Lexington, Va., he was taking his customary afternoon ride; and, when some distance from the village, he was met by a pedestrian, who saluted him, and, halting suddenly, asked in full brogue, if he were "Ginnerl Lee." On being answered affirmatively, the Irishman said:

"And it's me that's glad to git the sight of ye, Ginnerl. Would ye mind, sir, av I'd jist give ye a bit iv a cheer?'

"Oh," said the General, "I think we'd as well dispense with that."

"Bedad, sir, I think I'll have to do it anny how!"

And he thereupon whirled his hat enthusiastically around his head and gave a lusty "three chairs," en solitaire—doubtless to the General's great, though unexpressed, amusement and his own satisfaction.

Death.

We have never read anything more beautiful than the following from the pen of George D. Prentice:

There is but a breath of air and a beat of the heat between this world and the next. And in the brief interval of painful and awful suspense, while we feel that death is present with us, that we are powerless and the all-powerful, and the faint pulsation here is but the prelude of endless life hereafter, we feel in the midst of the stunning calamity that is about to befall us, that the earth has no compensation good enough to mitigate the severity of our loss. But there is no grief without some beneficent provision to soften its intenseness. When the good and lovely die, the memory of their good deeds, like the moonbeams on the stormy sea light up our darkened hearts and lends to the surrounding gloom a beauty so sad, so sweet, that we would not, if we could, dispel the darkness that environs it.

Hitting Them Where they Live.

The Meridian (Miss.) Mercury says:

The President of our Convention the other day said he had a despatch from one of the members, asking an extension of his leave of absence, because he was detained at home by sickness. A mischievous white man asked where the despatch was from? The President answered, Indiana. Some Rads tried to explain, but the fact was patent that the carpet-bagger, Williams, pretending to represent Holmes county, was ensconced in the bosom of his family in Indiana, and wanted "leave extended" in order that the $10 per diem might run on while he is sick, or pretending to be sick, at home in Indiana.

Mechanics, what have they done? Have they not opened the secret chambers of the mighty deep and extracted its treasures, and made the raging billows their highways, on which they ride as on a tame steed? Are not the elements of fire and water chained to the crank, and at the mechanics' bidding compelled to turn it? Have not the mechanics opened the earth, and made its products contribute to our wants? The forked lightning is our plaything, and they rise triumphant on the wings of the mighty wind. To the wise they are floodgates of knowledge, kings and queens are decorated by their handiwork.

Henry Ward Beecher, contrasting the influence over children of the rod and the sugar plum, owns up to having been long and grievously in error. He said he tried the rod in governing his children, but uses the sugar plum with his grandchildren.—Missouri Democrat.

Well, one thing is certain: when the rod was in vogue children were taught not to say "grieviously" for "grievously."

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.
Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.
Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.
I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.
If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.
